

Student Volunteer Opportunities

at the NWS Quad Cities Forecast Office

What to Expect as a Student Volunteer at NWS Quad Cities:

Volunteers spend their time on a variety of activities including shadowing forecasters and other staff members, participating in outreach activities, or assisting with communication during severe weather. Students will also be assigned an independent project suited to their interests and talents.

Student volunteers average about 10 hours per week and keep a semi-regular schedule. Each student's schedule is developed based on the needs of both the student and the office.

Who Can Apply:

- Current college students who will be in their junior or senior year in the fall
- Applicants must also have completed a job shadow at NWS Quad Cities.

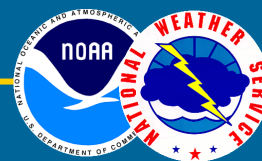

Note: Email cr.dvnstudents@noaa.gov to arrange a job shadow.

How to Apply:

No later than March 1, 2011, submit the following information* to cr.dvnstudents@noaa.gov:

- One-Page Resume
- Personal Statement of Interest (not to exceed one page) that includes your areas of meteorological interest, current career goals, and your goals for the volunteer experience
